Risk Assessments

Wackenhut's consulting professionals will enhance a corporation's existing security program by providing a clear definition of the threat and vulnerability that face your assets. Whether we perform a risk evaluation, security assessment or a site survey for your operation, Wackenhut will address methods and resources necessary to reduce potential liability issues, provide cost effective recommendations, demonstrate return on investment (ROI) scenarios and improve your overall security program.

Organizational Evaluations

The organizational structure of your security operation will often determine the effectiveness of your ability to deliver security products to your employees. Wackenhut's team of professional consultants will provide assessment and evaluation of your organization and make cost effective recommendations to improve the overall value of your security function.

Workplace Violence Prevention

To protect you and your employees, Wackenhut's workplace violence consultants can help educate corporations to recognize the warning signs of potentially violent behavior. We work closely with you to develop a comprehensive program, which includes information regarding corporate policy, employee awareness and training, intervention, incident review, reporting and threat management. All are customized to meet the unique needs of your working environment.

Brand Protection

With the rapid pace of corporate globalization, companies must take a proactive stance against infringements or intrusions on their brand. Whether it is a corporate name or logo or product identification, the protection of your brand is vital to the well being of the corporation. Wackenhut consulting and investigative teams are experts in brand protection planning and brand integrity verification.

Information Protection Programs

Protecting company information is more important now than ever before. Wackenhut's consulting team can provide you with effective measures to help you identify, classify, store and destroy confidential corporate information. Wackenhut's information protection training program will help your employees become more aware of when and how they communicate confidential information.

Policy and Procedure Development

The development of security guidelines, standards and policies are essential in the operation of a well balanced security program. Wackenhut can evaluate your organization's existing security policies and procedures and assist with updating, development and implementation of new procedures.

Program Measurements

One of the most important aspects of any security program is the ability to measure its effectiveness. Wackenhut's consulting team has significant experience in the development of program validation and software-based compliance tools to assist management in their metrics objectives.

Travel Security Programs

Corporate senior management cannot afford to be unaware of potential threats they and their employees face from crime, terrorism and civil unrest as they travel in our current global environment. Wackenhut's travel security programs provide advice, support and protection for corporation and its employees.

Security Awareness Programs

Awareness programs differ from education programs. When it comes to a security awareness program, utilizing Wackenhut's expertise to meet your specific security issues and culture will add value and worth to your program or plan.

Business Continuity Planning

Disasters can strike so quickly that without a tested plan in place, recovery could be technologically impossible or cost prohibitive. Wackenhut's consulting team can help your company prepare and respond to threats from natural or man-made incidents. A comprehensive plan will ensure the continuity of your business, regardless of the type of interruption.

Crisis Management

Wackenhut offers a full line of crisis management and response services. These global 24/7 services offer customers the benefit of a seamless integration of advice from experts and leading representatives of law enforcement, forensic psychology, intelligence, and high-technology fields.

Computer Security

Wackenhut offers a full line of computer security services. Around-the-clock security monitoring capabilities help organizations reduce risk exposures created by integrating corporate networks with those of business partners and the internet.
